

Seth M. Siegel

Intro:

Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is my privilege to welcome one of America's leading thinkers and commentators on water issues.

He is a serial entrepreneur, lawyer, and a New York Times bestselling author.

He has been recognized for his thought leadership and advocacy on water scarcity and quality issues and he is as a Senior Fellow at the University of Wisconsin's Center for Water Policy.

He has presented before Congress, the United Nations, the World Bank, Davos and Google's headquarters, as well as dozens of universities, including Harvard, Yale, and Princeton.

Notably, he was also nominated for a Tony Award as a producer behind the Broadway revival of Man of La Mancha.

Ladies and gentlemen, will you please join me in welcoming America's number one authority on water, Seth Siegel.

100-word bio:

Seth M. Siegel is one of America's leading authorities on water issues. Siegel is a Senior Fellow at the University of Wisconsin's Center for Water Policy and a highly sought-after commentator. Since selling the company he founded to Ford Motor Company, he devotes his energies to community service, while helping to incubate companies in the financial, real estate, and entertainment industries. In addition to being a serial entrepreneur, lawyer, and a New York Times bestselling author, he also received a Tony Award nomination as a producer of the Broadway revival of Man of La Mancha.

50-word bio:

Seth M. Siegel is one of America's leading authorities on water issues. He is also a serial entrepreneur, lawyer, and a New York Times bestselling author. Seth is a Senior Fellow at the University of Wisconsin's Center for Water Policy and is a sought-after commentator.